

Dr Mathieu ZUBER

Full Professor of Neurology since 1995 (Paris Descartes University)

Head of the Stroke Unit and Neurological Department of the Saint-Joseph Hospital in Paris, France, since 2006

Main collective responsibilities

- Past - president of the French Neurovascular Society (2009-11).
- Past-president of the France-AVC association's scientific committee (national French association for stroke patients).
- Current president of the National College of Neurological University Teachers (since 2014) and responsible for pedagogical initiatives (including textbooks) in the field of neurology.
- Member of national and international neurological societies: French Neurological Society, French Neurovascular Society, European Stroke Organization, World Stroke Organization.
- Member of the steering committee of the French Ministerial Plan 2010-2014 against stroke.
- Reviewer for international reviews (Stroke, Cerebrovasc Dis, Neurology, J Neurol, J Neurol and Psychiatry...).

Research and teaching

- Investigator for numerous national and international institutional/industrial studies
- Member of the National board of examiners for institutional medical research projects (2014-15)
- Member of the Board for the organization of the annual "Journées de Neurologie de Langue Française"
- Teaching courses at the medical university and for numerous trainings
- Teaching courses in international congresses and universities (Viet Nam, Tunisia, etc...)
- Author of more than 200 articles/chapters in the field of neurological diseases